Dear Dr. Lederberg:

Thank you for your recent advice regarding a geneticist
to comment on the article by Arthur Jensen.

After reading the article, Dr. Crow of the University of Wisconsin agreed to participate in the discussion.

As I mentioned to you on the phone, we would ideally like to print an additional contribution from your colleague at Stanford, but with Dr. Crow committed to contribute, we have filled up the available space in the issue.

Once again, thank you very much for assisting us in suggesting possible discussants. I will send you a copy of the discussion as soon as it is published.

Sincerely,

Donald R. Moore

As you see, I did eventually write a comment, though under great pressure of time. You are free to use it if that is still feasible.

* Please do. May I have the Winter issue too?
I walked from Jensen's typewritten.
